in 2001, secondary school enrollment was about 78 of age-eligible students; 80 for boys and 76 for girls

they look at washington, with all of the gridlock and debt and deficits and i'm sure they think that's how government works everywhere

in 2001, secondary school enrollment was about 78 of age-eligible students; 80 for boys and 76 for girls

if you're willing to take that risk, it's really your call.
