Aviation safety is foremost, and each medical history is evaluated on the basis of risk of incapacitation.

It is foolhardy to set a standard, such as the public needs to know how to assess the medical/scientific information.