It is grown completely underground or indoors in the absence of sunlight in order to prevent the leaves from turning green and opening up (etiolation).

on the teas exam, which takes nearly four hours to complete. Publications appearing in non-print media